

STELLAR JOCKEYS AUGUST NEWSLETTER

Welcome to your monthly Stellar Jockeys newsletter for August 2022. This email may be brief, but there's another lengthy post on Brigador Killers up on Steam waiting for you.

Retrospective of BKTESTs 01-03 Up On Steam

In a previous newsletter we briefly looked back at BKTEST03. For Brigador Killers' Steam news post this month, we've written up a much more detailed retrospective of the first three BKTESTs and included footage of each one to show some of the progress made so far this year. We hope you enjoy it.

As for BKTEST04, it has only recently been pushed following a combination of the summer holidays, Gen Con along with some unintended delays, and we're now starting on the first of the Brigador Killers alphas.

Take Our 2022 Community Survey

If you're not in our chat server you are probably unaware that we're currently running another short survey, because we like to understand our audience. It's just seven questions long, with an optional form at the end to enter a raffle to win something from our merchandise store. You will only be emailed if you win. The form will be taking responses until Thursday, September 1st, 2022, so be quick.

Community Spotlight

A return to form this month for Briggs as it's been a while since we've been graced with a LEGO version of one of the Brigador vehicles. Presenting "The Brickler"...

...@mixnmatt1 on Twitter warmed up by sketching some of the game's other vehicles..

...Lowkek Ops did their own take on Marvin Beck laughing...

...And flyingdebris, inspired by the BK cop designs, decided to riff on the well known 1996 Tony Auth comic panel.

The above images along with many others by the community can be found in the #becks_best channel on our Discord server.

Next Month

For September we're aiming to do a shorter turnaround between BKTEST04 and the first BK alpha. We look forward to showing you more of BK's development.
