

STELLAR JOCKEYS AUGUST NEWSLETTER

Welcome back to your monthly Stellar Jockeys newsletter for August 2023. This month's post is about the art dev process for one of the enemy vehicles in Brigador Killers.

Benjamin, Stellar Jockeys

Designing a SWAT Vehicle From The Wheels Up

Question: What do you get when you take a Russian chassis, a German hull and a commentary on American police militarization? Answer: About 1200 words on the subject.

New Mini Models Are Coming

Our community manager Aniviron has put together a brief gallery of the new sets of 1/144 miniatures over on the Brigador subreddit. Blister packs for the Fork, Buckmaster, Pellinore, Dorothy, Mongoose (and maybe something else..?) will be coming to the Stellar Jockeys merchandise store later in September.

Community Spotlight

Flyingdebris has revealed that Octovarious Semicolon has made a new friend (click to enlarge)...

Carlos Terraphage (as he now calls himself) is among other voidborne, a total loser, and after arriving in Solo Nobre at great expense, ends up befriending local Speeb Octovarious Semicolon in an effort to learn from him how to hook up with abhorrently muscled Nobreans. In turn, Semicolon wants to learn from a real spacer how to get with space ladies. Both have no idea what they are doing having no interest in their own cultures.

...Server newcomer SpaceMongol made this incredible Brigador-themed hangar scene...

...King Slav was inspired to 3D print an alternate take on the Touro originally posted by mellonbread all the way back in December 2018...

...and keeping on the Touro theme, RifleInfantry did a cutaway drawing to close out this month's selection.

MAIN BATTLE MECH. "TOURO"

The enduring face of the NEP- a mediumweight combat mech with an absolutely proven combat history. Successive system modernization packages ensured the aging Touro a place in the front lines even by the time of the Long Night; post-Reassertion export sales indicate this classic bull's service is far from over.

@RifleInfantry

In fact the community was so active that we don't have the space in this newsletter to show off everything they made. Fortunately, they're all archived in the #becks_best channel of our discord server.
