

STELLAR JOCKEYS FEBRUARY NEWSLETTER

Welcome to your Stellar Jockeys newsletter for February 2024. The Brigador Killers build on Itch.io received far more attention than we were expecting.

From The Archives: Early Concept Ideas

Since Brigador is part of Steam's Dinos vs. Robots Fest, we decided to go through our archives and reveal some of the initial concepts for Brigador from around 2014 and put them into a short post.

Community Spotlight

Following the first public build of Brigador Killers, the #becks_best gallery channel has seen a lot of activity. Kewl drew a quick take on the new Fork...

Briggs hooked their copy of BK up to their old Magnavox CRT...

The overlap of people that have played both The Mystery of the Druids and the Brigador Killers build is probably not that large, but that didn't stop sigmacore from producing The Mystery of the Daves...

An explainer for what "Dave" actually means was provided by the twin efforts of Flyingdebris and rifleinfantry...

And it would seem of all months that this newsletter wouldn't have something from Juntti.

We can't fit in everything that ended up in the #becks_best channel for February. Please check out our Discord if you'd like to see several more great submissions.

Next Month

We expect to update the Brigador Killers build on Itch.io soon. The #brigador_killers_news channel of our discord will be pinged when it's ready.
