

STELLAR JOCKEYS JULY NEWSLETTER

Welcome to your Stellar Jockeys newsletter for July 2024. To kick off the summer, we've uploaded a video containing new environmental assets.

BK Dev: Dioramas and CLUTs

This month's Brigador Killers post is an asset tour of eighteen different dioramas all containing various assets along a particular theme. Each diorama cycles through five different lighting settings to give the same scene a different tone. The video can be seen in the post below.

Community Spotlight

Since it's the summer, the #becks_best channel has been a little empty, so instead we're going to shout out something a little bit different: Firelock 198X. Firelock 198X is a tabletop miniatures wargame centered around fantasy warfare in the nuclear age.

The game can be (and is) played virtually via Tabletop Simulator frequently in our discord server. The ruleset and workshop tiles for TTS can be downloaded entirely for free.

It is principally the brainchild of Discord server regular rifleinfantry along with SCOREGOBLIN, thedanyourmancouldsmelllike and +C who have been working on it for some time. Virtual sessions and playtests are frequently conducted by Bit Bitter and Le TotuminTea while discussion over the game takes place in the dedicated firelock 198X thread that can be found by visiting the #p-and-p_tabletop channel.

Chances are if you enjoy Brigador and are into tabletop, you might enjoy checking out Firelock. The link below will take you to all you need to start playing.

Next Month

It's the summer! Go take a break or something. We'll be back with another update at the end of August.
