Brigador Killers in 2025

February's Brigador Killers update is a short one, so here are the main points:

- We're working on a demo for June's Steam Next Fest
- The Brigador Killers audiobook will be available soon
- You can sneak a look at the excellent cover art on the post

Merch store price increases coming soon

The shipping prices from the US to all available destinations* are going to increase after March 31st 2025 and we are letting as many people know as possible in advance. In brief:

- Domestic US will be 10 USD instead of the current 9 USD
- Canada will be 26 USD instead of the current 20 USD
- Most of EU will be 29 USD instead of 23 USD
- AUS & NZ will be increasing the most to 34 USD from 24 USD

Shipping rates are calculated at checkout on the store so you can always see the shipping cost in advance of payment. On a lighter note, please do not feel the need to rush out and buy merch! We are well stocked on most items, the minis won't sell out any time soon, and because of the positive response to the Treehouses, we are making another batch of fifty. We will also continue to run our annual store discount at the end of the year among other promotions to be announced.

If you have any questions about merch orders, please email us at team@stellarjockeys.com.

[* Available destinations still do not include the United Kingdom, Ukraine or Russia for now - but we are more seriously looking at setting up EU distribution rather than shipping from just the US. This would also finally restore the servicing of UK customers and provide better rates for EU destinations. However, this is not in the near future, but maybe 12 months from now.]

Community Spotlight

Typically when our monthly newsletter is dry on news, the #becks_best channel isn't. VEO decided to add the Touro to Garry's Mod (here's the Steam workshop mod link)...

...CATASTEROID gave an homage to both Norman Osberger and Tony Hawk...

...which in turn led bloodylilzi to do this.

NORMAN OSBERGER'S SKATE LEADER

Our #design_bureau channel is host to a lot of scale model enthusiasts. RWAY showed off their Canmore mini painted in Voltan colors, and even added on a Man from Volta on top.

February is also the month when Valentine's Day lands. Of course, bloodylilzi contributed some brigahunks...

...as did Junnti.

Many more posts grace the #becks_best hall of fame that can't easily fit into one newsletter. Feel free to drop by our discord server and browse the gallery of fan works which started all the way back in 2018.

Next Month

Hopefully by this time next month you will have heard the first couple of chapters of the next audiobook. A lot more is coming.
